The business card features a background illustration of a construction site with workers installing ceiling panels. The central logo consists of a white house silhouette containing the letters 'BJM' in a stylized font, with the word 'Stav' written below it. Below the logo are two circular icons: a telephone handset and a computer mouse with a cord. The contact details are presented in two white rounded rectangular boxes. The bottom section of the card is a larger white rounded rectangle containing the company's services in Czech.
